Captain Ramin Olson, the defense attorney for Goldie Locks — played by Capt. Tonald Spinks of the Base Legal Center at MCB Hawaii, awaits the verdict from two student jurors. Locks was eventually found guilty of both burglary and bad fashion in the case.

Captain Joseph Silvio, prosecutor in Locks v. Three Bears, makes his closing argument.

Le Jardin Academy students actively role play the jurors who will decide the fate of Goldie Locks.

Silvio pressures the court to rule in his favor.

One of the most intense crime dramas in history came to an end May 8, as the Base Legal Center aboard MCB Hawaii, Kaneohe Bay, held the long-awaited trial of The Three Bears vs. Goldie Locks.

Justice finally prevailed when Locks was found guilty of burglary, theft and bad fashion by the members of the specially appointed jury here.

The mock trial was staged by members of Base Legal in an effort to educate third grade students at Windward Oahu's Le Jardin Academy about the importance, practices and applications of the legal system in the Marine Corps, and society as a whole.

Nearly 50 children arrived on to the base, where they were greeted by former drill instructor and current chief court reporter Staff Sgt. Darrel Weston, who properly and quickly welcomed the students to get off of the bus and go into the courtroom, while wearing his old campaign cover and speaking at a drill instructor volume.

Inside, the presiding judge, Lt. Col. Robert Fricke, appointed the students as jurors to serve on the ensuing case.

The defendant Goldie Locks, who was played by Capt. Tonald Spinks, was ushered into the courtroom in full shackles for trial by the court of juror students.

Using complete courtroom customs and courtesies, both the prosecution and defense laid out their cases before the judge and jury. Both sides called witnesses to the stand to support their cases, including "the three bears" and friends of the bear family, all of whom were portrayed by Base Legal Center Marines.

Both counsels had presented appealing cases. But ultimately, it was up to the jury to decide the fate of Goldie Locks.

The students separated into two juries, but when they returned to the courtroom, their decisions were the same: guilty. Not only was Goldie Locks guilty of breaking into the bears' cottage, but also she was found guilty of a fashion faux pas — according to the reading of the jury's ballot.

When Le Jardin Academy left the installation, teachers said their students left with a working knowledge of the legal system in the military and, perhaps, a new feeling of closure for the story of Goldilocks and the Three Bears by Jan Brett.

Sergeant Joshua Whann of the Base Legal Center, who played Babe E. Bear during the trial, swears to tell the court the whole truth.

Unattended kids pose problems

Keeping children safe aboard all installation areas is a top priority of base officials

Cpl. Jessica M. Mills

Raising a child can be a very difficult task, and it can become even more laborious once children begin to venture out on their own.
But, when is the right time to let go of their hand and trust their judgements?
At a recent Manana Housing Committee meeting aboard MCB Hawaii, residents discussed an ongoing problem with young children being unaccompanied while playing on MCB Hawaii playgrounds and streets. Recent modifications to the regulations make the rules a little more specific.
“The problem at the meeting was that not everyone agreed what was safe for their kids,” said Gunnery Sgt. Steven Smyers, operations chief of the MCB Hawaii, Camp H. M. Smith district. “Some thought their children were fine outside alone, but others sternly disagreed.
“We don’t have the same kind of problems as outside communities. We provide a relatively safe environment, but the dangers are still out there and parents sometimes forget that,” he explained.

According to MCB Hawaii’s base regulations, parents are responsible for the safety and control of their children aboard MCB Hawaii at all times. Children are not to play in the streets, non-residential parking lots, industrial and construction areas, dumpsters, sewers, condemned or vacant buildings, or on the Kaneohe Bay Klipper Golf Course, or in any other dangerous areas.
The regulation states that children may play on side streets, but only with adult supervision.

Cpl. Jessica M. Mills

Regina Garcia, grandmother of Luis Garcia, 6, gives him a push on the swings at the Super Playground aboard MCB Hawaii, Kaneohe Bay. It’s important for children of Luis’ age to have adult supervision.

Another question at the meeting was what is the appropriate age for children to play alone.
The regulations clearly state that children 5 years or younger must be attended by a responsible person at all times aboard MCB Hawaii. When it comes to neighborhood playgrounds, children between the ages of 6 - 9 years must be visually supervised, and they must be accompanied by a responsible person at all times while at beaches, theaters, swimming pools and other recreational areas.

For example, according to base regulation 5500.15A, if your 8-year-old child wants to go to the playground close to your quarters, he or she may go alone, as long as you can see him or her from your quarters. However, if the child wants to go to the pool, you or another responsible person must go with the child.
“Children 5 years old or younger need to be supervised while playing at the playground, even if they are playing in front of their quarters,” said Staff Sgt. Kazimiak Bochniak, physical security and crime prevention chief aboard MCB Hawaii, Kaneohe Bay. “The problems we are experiencing at Manana Housing and other housing areas are children who are playing in the streets. This causes a very unsafe condition for the children and vehicle operators.
Children 10 years or older may be left alone in quarters and may care for younger children, if they are mature enough to take appropriate action in case of an emergency. They must also have good judgement when caring for younger children, according to the base regulation.
“Parents need to sit down with their children and explain why it is unsafe to play in the streets, construction sites, public parking lots, and even in residential areas,” Bochniak explained. “A child will sustain major injuries when hit by a vehicle that is travelling at even very low speeds.”

Marine Corps Base Hawaii has changed its regulations to provide the guidance needed to help make children on base safer.
“We would like parents to take an active role in our attempt to provide safe conditions for our children,” added Bochniak.

The heart of Windward Oahu is recognized

Dorothy Rose Babineau, affectionately known as the Bird Lady of Hawaii, and also a large supporter of MCB Hawaii, was presented with an honorary certificate and commended by the City Council of the City and County of Honolulu for her exceptional leadership and dedication in community service.

Dorothy Rose was chosen for this distinguished honor by Windward Oahu Council Member Barbara Marshall.

The award was based on her many accomplishments and support for the state of Hawaii since 1963, when she began caring for injured and abandoned birds in the area.

“I would take in anything,” said Dorothy Rose. “One of the reasons I started it was because, at the time, none of the veterinarians knew anything about caring for injured birds, so I took it upon myself to learn.

“It was absolutely try and failure; the more I helped the more I learned,” she explained.

Dorothy Rose took in about 27 birds at a time, saying that the animals took over her entire living room.

“There were cages on top of cages all over the room,” said Dorothy Rose. “I finally built a bird room off to the side of my bedroom; I had no choice.”

Dorothy Rose had cared for more than 100,00 birds by the time she retired.

The list of her accomplishments does not stop there. Twice in a row, Dorothy Rose has been named Honorary Mayor of Kailua. She also founded the Castle Memorial Hospital Citizens’ Advisory Council, and served as its president three terms.

Her presence is undeniable in Kailua, where she has served 25 years on the Kailua Neighborhood Board, was the director of the Kailua Community Council, and still sits on the board of directors at the Kailua Chamber of Commerce, as an honorary member and its military liaison.

Dorothy Rose has spent her life trying to help others, doing all that she can to relieve other people’s pain. She began the Windward Spouse Abuse Shelter, which took over a year to create.

“They wanted a shelter for abused spouses and children to go, but no one was stepping up to the plate, so I took over,” said Dorothy Rose. “We have all types come there now, even military members, spouses and children.”

Once the project was complete, Dorothy Rose volunteered at the

Flower cupcakes make a tasty, fun family activity

NAPS
Featurettes

Americans are increasingly focusing on family, friends and the community, and looking for opportunities to spend more time together.

A recent poll indicated that 70 percent of respondents spent more time with family in the past year-and-a-half, and many families feel that it is essential to include planned family time each week.

More and more, parents are looking for relaxing activities to share with their children. Try this fun activity that allows for lots of creativity and even the littlest of hands to decorate.

Flower Cupcakes
(Recipe yields 1 dozen)

Ingredients:
1 box (18.25 oz.) yellow cake mix
1 container white frosting
1 bag jellybeans

Make cupcakes according to package directions. Spread frosting onto cooled cupcakes and place jellybeans on top in a flower design.

These cupcakes are great if you are looking for a birthday party according to package directions. Spread frosting onto cooled cupcakes and place jellybeans on top in a flower design.

Plus, for more variety, if you use this same idea in a 9x12 sheet cake, it will allow you to create a picture or mosaic with jellybeans.

Hawaii Military Appreciation Month

(Editor’s Note: In recognition of the U.S. military’s contributions to America and the free world, the Chamber of Commerce sets aside the month of May, each year, to pay tribute to service members and their families. Local businesses are providing the following.)

► Throughout May: The Battleship Missouri Memorial will offer special rates of $8 for military adults and $4 for their children under 12. Military in uniform will be admitted free.

Also, enjoy discounted or free specials at Atlantis Adventures, Atlantis Cruises, Atlantis Submarines, Sea Life Park and Waimea Falls Park.

► Today and Saturday: The Polynesian Cultural Center will host Military Appreciation Night. Military will be treated to a 50 percent discount from normal ticket prices, to include on admission, the center’s island shows, IMAX theater showing, dinner buffet and its evening show. A special feature will be the annual Fire Knife Dance competitions, with finals on May 17. Obtain tickets from Information, Tickets and Tours offices.

► Saturday: AT&T Hawaii, with its team from AT&T Wireless and AT&T Government Services, will once again host the Combined Military Band Concert at the historic Hawaii Theater at 7 p.m.

The concert will feature top musicians from Navy, Army, Marine Corps, Air Force, Coast Guard and Hawaii National Guard bands. Attendees can enjoy music from Broadway musicals to military marches to pop songs at this free concert.

Tickets will be available at the Hawaii Theater Box Office and the Chamber of Commerce of Hawaii beginning May 2. Seating is on first come, first-served basis, with doors opening at 6:45 p.m.

► Saturday: The U.S. Army Museum of Hawaii will host 200 years of military history when it presents “Living History Day” from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Ft. DeRussy. Free of charge, this event is presented for the education and enjoyment of the public.

► Saturday and Sunday: Enjoy a 20 percent discount at Borders bookstores.

► Sundays: The Honolulu Academy of Arts will offer free admission to military on the first Sunday of each month. Military I.D. is required. Free admission also includes May 17.

Councilmember Barbara Marshall congratulates Dorothy Rose upon receiving Honorary Certificates for her exceptional leadership and dedication to Honolulu.

Honolulu Suicide and Crisis Center as a counselor. You can hardly name a group serving Kailua that Dorothy Rose has not been a part of, including MCB Hawaii.

In 1979, there was a murder of an MCB Hawaii Marine in Kailua, later found to be caused by a local. When Dorothy Rose heard of the murder, she decided something needed to change.

“I was incensed by this senseless act of violence towards our Marines, and I wanted to make sure that no other Marines would ever be murdered again, due to ignorance,” said Dorothy Rose.

So, she, along with other prominent local representatives, formed the Windward Civilian Military Council, which provided a forum for those two diverse groups to discuss mutual aid and problems.

After 25 years of service to the Civ-Mil Committee, Dorothy Rose still serves as its president.

Her ties to MCB Hawaii began many years before that. In 1963, Dorothy Rose, who was also a military wife, volunteered for what is now called the Navy Marine Corps Relief Society

Dorothy Rose sits with Col. Richard Roten, deputy commander of MCB Hawaii, while at City Hall, prior to the presentation by the City Council, May 7.

MCB Hawaii, Kaneohe Bay, for more than three years. She has been connected with and loyal to the base ever since, attending all of its flag-pole ceremonies and special events, including the Marine Corps Ball each year.

Brigadier Gen. Jerry C. McAbee often refers to Dorothy Rose as “our biggest supporter.”

“I love Marines; I would give my life for a Marine if I could,” said Dorothy Rose.

Her efforts are so beloved that in 1998, Charles C. Krulak, former commandant of the Marine Corps, presented her with the Meritorious Public Service Citation for untiring dedication to MCB Hawaii and its relationship to the surrounding community.

For all these accomplishments and many more, Dorothy Rose, is commended
